

Curriculum Vitae

Dusan Ilic was born on June 27, 1992 in Smederevo. Elementary school "Branislav Nušić" graduated in 2007 in Smederevo with great success as a student of the generation and the holder of the diploma "Vuk Karadžić". He graduated Gymnasium Smederevo in 2011, also with great success as the holder of the "Vuk Karadzic" diploma. During his education, he participated in numerous municipal, regional and republic competitions in history, geography, and mathematics and achieved the following results at the republic level: history – 1st place (2006), 2nd place (2007) and 3rd place (2010 and 2011), geography – 4th place (2007).

He was a longtime participant of several different seminars at the Petnica Research Station, where he attended the Summer Science School in 2006 and attended the Seminar of Social History in the period from 2008 to 2011 with the theme "The Work of the Gymnasium Smederevo During the Occupation of the World War II". He was a multi-year participant of the Central Serbia championship in chess and the winner of the 3rd place in the 2010 "Hello Europe" quiz.

It serves English (excellent knowledge), French (basic level) and Macedonian language (excellent knowledge).

He enrolled in undergraduated studies at the Faculty of Law, University of Belgrade in 2011. He graduated on October 1st, 2015 with an average grade of 9.50. Master studies in the Public law module, Constitutional law sub-module of the Faculty of Law, University of Belgrade, enrolled in 2015, and ended in 2016 with an average grade of 10.00. Master tesis "The Idea of Socio-economic Bicameralism in Serbian and Yugoslav Law" was evaluated with the highest grade by the members of commission. He studied PhD studies at the Faculty of Law of the University of Belgrade, Constitutional law module in 2016/2017. He is currently at the 3rd year of PhD studies.

At PhD studies, he specializes in the phenomenon of bicameralism in European unitary states. The PhD dissertation project entitled "The Role of the Second Chamber in European Unitary States" was accepted by the Belgrade University's Council of the Legal and Economic Sciences.

After completing undergraduated studies, he gained professional experience in the "Pećanac Lawyer's Office" in Smederevo, where he was enrolled as a trainee at Chamber of Lawyers of Požarevac on December 22, 2016.

During the studies, he showed his affinities for several scientific areas and a branch of law. He showed a high level of interest as a participant in various special study groups at the Faculty of Law, in the field of Constitutional Law, Comparative Legal Tradition, Serbian Legal History, Parliamentary Law, Political System, Family Law, International Public Law and International Relations. He was a participant of the Seminar "Principal State of Law" organized at the Faculty of Law in Belgrade from 01-05 December 2014.

In addition to these, he also had other student activities. On October 23, 2012, as a deputy program director in the association Srpsko kulturno kolo "Despot Stefan Lazarević", he was one of the organizers of the formal academy on the occasion of the anniversary of the 100th anniversary of the Kumanovo battle.

He is a long-time beneficiary of the Fund for Young Talents, scholarships for exceptionally talented students, as well as scholarships from the City of Smederevo. During the school year 2014/2015. he was also a beneficiary of the "Dositeja" scholarship from the Ministry of Youth and Sports. As an excellent student he has been awarded and praised for an excellent success at the Faculty of Law.

The field of scientific work in PhD studies, which deals with, involves studying the problem of the way of representing voters in representative bodies, both classical and alternative, then the phenomenon of bicameralism, especially in unitary states. In addition to these, his interests are also related to other areas of Constitutional law and Parliamentary law, the organization of the state (forms of state power, forms of state order, forms of government, forms of political regime), but also for the areas of constitutional history of Serbia and Serbian legal history. Also, his research is related to questions of electoral law, the issues of the electoral system, as well as the matter of the political system, political institutions, as well as the role of parties and other political factors in parliamentary life, then the phenomenon of regionalism and federalism. In its research, the topics always approach interdisciplinary, using not only acquired knowledge in the field of legal science, but also from other related social sciences.

Since May 2018, he has been engaged through the project of the Ministry of Education, Science and Technological Development, as a trainee researcher at the Institute for European Studies in Belgrade. He was a participant of the first joint seminar on topics of family, bioethics, freedom of speech and freedom of religion was held at Institute of European Studies from Belgrade in partnership with the ADF International on Friday and Saturday, January 31st - February 1st, 2020.

Bibliography

1. Dušan Ilić , "Annex of the discussion on the establishment of the Socio-economic Parliament in second Yugoslavia", Kultura Polisa, 37/2018, 521-531. (M51)
2. Dušan Ilić, "Annex of the discussion on the selection of the best electoral system in the context of the announced changing of the Constitution of Serbia", Pravni život, 12/2018. (M51)
3. Dušan Ilić, "Elections for the European Parliament 2019. Croatia and Slovenia", Kultura polisa, vol.16, special edition no.3, 2019, edited by Miša Đurković, 219-234; UDC 324 (4): 323 (497.5 + 497.4). (M51)
4. Aleksandar Sasa Gajić, Dušan Ilić, "Controversies of Contemporary Bicameralism", Kultura polisa, 39/2019, 31-45; UDC 321.01: 321.7. (M51)
5. Aleksandar Sasa Gajić, Dušan Ilić, "Does bicameralism have a future exclusively in Non-democratic political systems?", Kultura polisa, 40/2019, 89-100; UDC 321: 321.7. (M51)
6. Dušan Ilić, Rajko Petrović, "Foreign Policy Relations between Serbia and Romania in the Context of Global Political Changes", in the collection of papers: The Balkans in the Age of Global Reorganization, editors: Slobodan Janković and Marina Kostić, Institute for International Politics and Economy, Belgrade, 2019, 123-143. (M44)
7. Dušan Ilić, "Ethnic redrawing of constituency borders: the example of the Kingdom of Yugoslavia", Pravni život, 12/2019. 735-748. (M52)
8. Dedanski, V., Ilić, D. (2019). "The geopolitical significance of the Danube for Serbia in the 20th century". 30th International Scientific Conference "Danube - River of Cooperation", 23-25 September, Belgrade, Serbia. Approved for publication. (M33)
9. Dedanski, V., Ilić, D. (2019). GEOPOLITICAL RELATIONS OF SFR YUGOSLAVIA AND ROMANIA IN THE PERIOD 1945-1991. 6th International Conference Geography, Environment and GIS, 23-25. May, Targoviste. (M34)

10. Dušan Ilić, "Reviews of lectures held at the Institute for European Studies", Annals of the Institute for European Studies, vol. 2018/19, 2019, p. 19-24, 30-34, 55-59, 68-71, 75-79, 95-99, 104-109, 127-132 and 157-162.

11. Dušan Ilić, "Contribution by Lazo M. Kostić to Serbian Legal Science", in the collection of papers: Lazo M. Kostić, science, identity, patriotism, editors: Budimir Aleksić, Miša Djurković, Institute of Serbian Culture, Nikšić, Institute of European Studies, Belgrade, 2020.

Seminars and conferences:

- 31st Meetings of the Kopaonik School of Natural Law - "Law and the Commandment of Reason" (Department of the Rule of Law)

- 32nd Meetings of the Kopaonik School of Natural Law - "Law and the Power of Mind" (Department of the Rule of Law)

- Scientific conference: "European elections and the future of the European Union", Institute for European Studies, Belgrade, May 16, 2019. years. Paper: "Elections for the European Parliament 2019. Croatia and Slovenia".

- Scientific conference: Scientific heritage of Lazo M. Kostić, Institute for Serbian Culture from Nikšić, Institute for European Studies from Belgrade, Miholjska Prevlaka Monastery, August 26, 2019. Work: "Contribution of Lazo M. Kostic to Serbian legal science".